A WORD FROM THE COACH

Good evening everyone, Happy New Year! Welcome to the Solent Arena for tonight's league game against the Invicta Dynamos!

The Cup Semi Final prior to Christmas was a weekend of mixed emotions. Missing several players through injury, suspension and covid, we made the decision to ice several of our NIHL 2 team, of which many have come through our junior system!

Whilst we ended up losing the semi-finals, it was very pleasing to see all the lads pull together and help the inexperienced guys on the ice. Everyone played really well and I'm proud of all of the boys who stepped up, they did themselves and our club proud.

Off the back of this, I decided to add Kris and Charlie from the NIHL 2 team on two way contracts! This is just rewards for two players who have worked hard in training and the games they had opportunities in, to earn a more solidified spot on our roster. They will prioritise NIHL2 fixtures unless we are short, so I'm sure you'll see them back on the ice for us soon!

We now turn our attention to the business end of the season and with the majority of players returning from injury and suspension, there is a positive feel in the group. We currently lie second but know very well how teams around us have strengthened. We will need to ensure we continue our form at home and win as many games away from home as possible to give us a favourable position for the playoffs come the end of the season!

Tonight's opponents are certainly a team that continue to strengthen and will be a formidable force for the remainder of the year! Banovsky has returned and is in fine form, as well gaining experienced players such as Billy Phillips. We had one of our best performances against the Dynamos on their last visit, so we will need to perform to a similar high standard if we want to take the two points!

Bring the noise

ITS NOT ALL ABOUT US

With Invicta being awarded 5-0 wins and the points against Chelmsford and Oxford they're on the heels on the Devils gaining 4 points and a rest of the winter break. Invicta are not to be under estimated a strong attacking team with some talented domestic and international individuals, tonight will be hard.

SPRING CUP WINNER '21

A very warm welcome to both our home fans & away supporters!

I'm sure your as excited as I am to be getting back to it after what seems a long lay off!

Not to dwell but the end of the year saw us very short in numbers and struggling with any depth to implement anything we needed to do to get a win. We survived and played very well considering the circumstances but just couldn't manage to snatch 2 points.

We move on to this weekend, tonight against Invicta will be a challenge as always, they're a very well drilled and skilled setup and we must be switched on for 60 minutes. Hopefully the Christmas rust will be gone after training and we can get right back to the normal Devil ways!

We need you loud and proud this evening, please make lots of noise & get behind us!

If your able to travel to Oxford tomorrow then all support is greatly appreciated and certainly helps us dig deep in tough moments, I think our time is due up there to come away with 2 points!

See you out there #8

ONE FAN ALONE

A double loss to Streatham is a hard pill to swallow, but I suppose fairly inevitable. Still leaves everyone wondering why they continue to play in this league, but it isn't for us to make those decisions.

The Devils, despite the scores on the day, played well.

Obviously the D2 Devils playing up didn't only impress me, with Alex Murray now signing them as full time to the senior squad.

Saturday, Chico faced down 56 shots, only letting two slip through, which is impressive in anyone's book. Looking ahead to this weekend, we have a pair of games, and it would be great to get four points.

First off, we have Invicta, who are snapping at the Devils heels in the league, a win for the Devils tonight would give some breathing space and could push us back above Slough, assuming they lose in their game to Streatham tomorrow.

Sunday, the Devils are traveling to Oxford to play the struggling City Stars.

Hopefully the Devils can pick up the points this weekend, which would be a great start to the back end of the season.
